Short Story Teamwork – Football game

It was a bright sunny morning and the football ground was shining with yellow rays from the sun.

Seeing this, a group of boys nearby decided that we will play a football match. Each one of them can bring something useful to play the match. One can bring a football, another the corner flag, others the goalkeeper gloves, marking chalk, goalposts, etc., After some time everyone gathered on the ground and started picking the teams. Soon there was a slight argument about who will pick the team. They decided that person who had bought the most important object to play the game, will pick the team.

Time passed by and they couldn't decide which is the most important thing.

Then they decided, will start playing the game with all the objects we have bought. And one by one will get rid of objects and see finally which is more important to play the game.

The game started, the first thing they got rid of was the whistle, because they thought the referee could shout instead of whistling. Then the goalkeeper removed his gloves and started saving the ball without the gloves. Then they replaced the goalpost with a couple of bins on each side.

And finally, they replaced football with old tin and kept playing.

While they were playing the game, a father and son were passing nearby. Seeing this, the father said to his son "Son, see the boys, and learn from the kids. Without football, they were managing to play football, even though they never going to be able to improve the game by playing with those objects".

The boys nearby heard him saying this. And started to realize that because of their personal ego and individual pride they were not able to enjoy themselves. Also not play a proper football match even though they have all the necessary kits for playing.

At that moment all the boys decided that we will push their ego and selfishness aside and start playing the match again with proper football kits.

The match really went well, with each one of them concentrating on enjoying and improving their game.
